triumphs. He has been carrying the young ladies all before him. and the story has run that he is to marry Miss Chas Thorndike.
Sunday I heard him & thought him an agreeable person, nothing more. Hervey, after meeting carried Caroline & Lizzy one & all R. clothes. & then another pair settled down. Deborah & I passed the evening at C. Phaire & so did Bradbury. Monday, matters looked still more serious at West St, beds all pulled down, Mrs Rowan there cleaning and we taking cups of tea in our hands. W. R. C. also Dr Taylor spent the morning with us notwithstanding all, to your father great wrath. I was more faithful than ever, still he kept up his great friendship & at parting requested Deborah & my prayers.
He is very friendly to Deborah, so we may infer our faithfulness has not disgusted him. In the afternoon, I put various of my plunder into a carriage & drove to Susan Pinks whom you will be very sorry to hear is quite ill having had an attack of bleeding at the lungs. She exerted herself a good deal at our Fair. I left her some of your tea & sugar, an old comfort & a gown for her niece, that Lizzy had grown out of which was very acceptable. Then I came to Jenneties where I was received with open arms. Hervey went to W. on the top of the house that I lived in your chamber. Tuesday 5th I called at West St, nearly desolate. Submit had gone to Dr Goodrich. Wednesday the day was so rainy I did not go out, but I understand Deborah aided your father to withdraw the name from the door, just as the shades of eve were descending & thus ends the wobbling of the canoe round that haunted spot.
Thursday Deborah spent the night here. W. Coffin has sent her a neat pretty letter. & "How sits visits to sew or have Pleases." She brought a Report that John Smith of Andover aided by men from Methuen were to march upon us at the time of the Annual meeting, turn out all the Board but Jewett & get up an organ. Knapp picked up the story & had it apparently in good faith, Geo Foster scoffs at it But we are on the qui vive Friday 8th I petitioned in Mt Vernon & Hancock Avenues. Got howled any names but perfect civility - some at the window of Short Jon Perkins'. She was in her chamber & after very rudely declining, she ordered me there down the back way.

I petitioned again all day Sat & but met nothing special I called at C. Place & found your letter had just received a very pretty & complimentary letter from Mrs Child about your going away, full of sympathy & good wishes. Caroline came to Newtonville and spent the Sunday. We went "Visiting" all day & Mrs Chace that he was as bad as all the rest.
We spent the evening getting ready for the Board meeting of our Society. Monday the 11th however was so unpleasant there was no going out. Tuesday I went up in town & found there was great distress & discouragement of the Standard. Gibbons had written on a touching letter stating that he was discouraged, still the spirit of the letter was beautiful. The Board meeting was held at Thankful's & I addressed a letter to the Board asking them, or rather telling them that the Fall River Ladies were going to hold a Fair to which we planned send $180 worth & in the strength of that asking them to give the Standard $100. This they did do. Sundry other resolutions were agreed on & it was voted not to have the usual of Lectures. In the evening as Rick was preaching at Park St we sent him a notice of our meeting, but he would not read it, at least, did not. Mr Garnet is feeling very badly as R. is making great havoc with his congregation. Wednesday morning went up to C. St & dined. Their rooms are much improved by the what not, centre table & pictures. She keeps with all his papers in it & William's bust on top stands in the dining room. In the afternoon our meeting was held in the midst of a driving snow storm so it was small.
Mrs Cowing prayed & remembered you both very fervently.
There were reports about petitioning & Resolutions. Mrs Johnson offered some in relation to Maria's departure.
We were all invited to Mr Southwicks & went. We were asked to meet Broadburn who wished to read us his Colon Report. He is the Chairman, I Hood of Lynn (an Ab) & Hall of Boston the other 2. Tarbell the leader of the Dem. Par comes pledged to vote for the Colored law. Mr Broadburn's Report was a very good one. I staid at Thankful's all night. The next morning went to Channing St, almost crazy about the Standard. $500 are to be raised - Isaac Winslow will do nothing now but says that if they will put the Standard on the same basis as the Liberator, that is buy the type, which will cost $800, he will give $200 toward it. So I wrote to Joy of Manchester urging him to give & also to show my letter to Barney, Macy etc. what the result will be I cant say. - To day Sat Jan 16. I am going to keep in with Deborah went to Sy Befue yesterday. I have had a note from her to day. All are well there, both little Ellen & Ann. Gertrude is the observed of all observers. I May C. has made her her own entry toilet. I shall come in to the Am Meeting I stay at Hennessy. I suppose will stay at C. H. Aunt Priscilla is about the same. Mr Morley's children object to his marrying Lucy, so operations are suspended at present. still it is thought it will take place. - As I have in a hurry to select what to write I will say ever here, W. M. Chase is the person who stands at the door the most steadfastly. He is behaving very well about the Standard - we are longing to hear. yes most affectionately Anne Warren Weston

Dear Ch & H. - I sat up late last night & wrote you 12 pages of gossip thinking that the writing case was going - & so - only one sheet can be allowed - - no matter I shall keep the rest for an opportunity. Many has told you all about domestic matters - Lizzy & I are as comfortable as possible - we have a fire in our room & are quite snug - the baby & Stanny at Chauncy place where she will probably be in the as Sendard her letter - - I hope that you are both enough - to enjoy your position & I hope your greatest trouble is anxiety to hear from home - because there all is well - I don't believe you ever answered Emma's allusion above to Lucy Parsons - it appears that old Mr Russell of Newburyport - wants to marry Lucy & she has accepted him & an old aunt at Newburyport - has tried to break up the match by saying that Lucy is only 22 - & his children make a fuss - I don't think it will be a match but nothing to laughing at - We think so what we can to break up the Standard tho I feel so anxious as to its being sustained The Pennsylvania Freeman is suspended for a month - the Friend of Man is stopped & it is supposed that another number of the Herald of Freedom cannot be published - We have settled up all the fair concerns very satisfactorily - I enclose from Sales Made & after you left $51.50 which pair on bills including the binding of Bell - & made our total receipts to amount to $2051.50 - I shall get more I have a balance in my hands which I think I shall pay over into the hands of Mrs Chapman for the B. Female - It was the same one that boy at the office - that got Sigmund Kemp - he thought fit to take out Jno Pierpont's name from the Medallion & presented it as the petition of the Rev Chauncy Jno Pierpont & others - Mr Pierpont instantly took it out - & said he had signed it under a misapprehension - & he drew up a memorial to King Leonidas & others and his name

We are looking forward with great interest to the annual meeting - which I suppose will bring out this enclosed Post - Pray upon us in case there should be any persons [illegible] to alarm the country & as all ways can — but [illegible] notice of our quarterly meeting to be seen upon this with a request that he would do so much for the Slaves as hear it - & he read it Post - but because partly dis composed he was preaching in Park Street - I assume you be aware it is [illegible] - Tell Henry to be sure to avoid changes of weather & [illegible]
